Please join us to hear Congresswoman Lois Capps and the Rev. Sally Bingham discuss the ways that people of faith can support local and national efforts to respond effectively to climate change.

Congresswoman Lois Capps represents the Central Coast of California and is committed to helping people improve their daily lives through better schools, quality health care, and a cleaner environment. She has led efforts to stop new oil and gas drilling off our coasts, reduce the amount of new oil drilling in Los Padres National Park, and protect consumers from shouldering the financial burden of cleaning up MTBE contamination in their water supplies.

The Rev. Sally G. Bingham is the President and Founder of The Regeneration Project and the Interfaith Power and Light Campaign. The Regeneration Project is an interfaith ministry devoted to deepening the connection between ecology and faith with the goal of helping people of faith recognize and fulfill their responsibility for the stewardship of creation. The Interfaith Power and Light campaign is mobilizing a national religious response to global warming while promoting renewable energy, energy efficiency and conservation.

The Environmental Coalition of Faith Communities, Santa Barbara (ECO Faith, Santa Barbara) builds on the convictions of religious faith from many traditions to address the urgent needs of the environment. ECO Faith SB seeks to achieve the following goals: 1. Work towards energy efficiency and conservation in places of religious faith. 2. Educates and encourages congregations to adopt environmentally sustainable lifestyles as a dimension of spiritual practice. 3. Partners with broader community to create a healthy environment.

We invite you to join our ECO Faith coalition.
