

San Luis Obispo Permaculture Guild Presents: AN INTRODUCTION TO PERMACULTURE

SLO PERMACULTURE

PERMACULTURE is a fully integrated & holistic design methodology for establishing regenerative human settlements

ALEX VINCENT

A recent graduate of Cal Poly Architecture, Alex is a permaculture designer, educator, and organizer. He is the founder of Poly Permaculture, a current Director at Quail Springs Permaculture Farm & a teacher at the Sustainable Vocations program.

SLO COUNTY PDC

Starts April 27th, 2013
10 Saturday Sessions
4 Sunday Workshops
Runs through Aug. 10
$500 Full-Course
Flexible options available

Tuesday, March 26th 2013

San Luis Obispo Grange Hall
2880 Broad St. San Luis Obispo, CA

Friday, April 12th 2013

Ludwick Community Center
864 Santa Rosa St. San Luis Obispo, CA

6:30 Reception, 7-9pm Discussion
Free Admission & Light Refreshments

Concerned about the future? Looking for positive solutions?

Join the SLO Permaculture Guild for an introduction into the permaculture concept. Alex Vincent, one of the lead instructors of the upcoming Permaculture Design Course, will be sharing stories from his pursuits to understand permaculture as a tool for positive and effective change. The evening's banter will address common questions such as:

- What is permaculture?
- Where did it come from?
- Does it work?
- How can we get involved?

Following the talk, the SLO Permaculture Leadership Team will add their perspectives through a panel discussion and be available to answer questions about the Course.

Don't forget to sign up for the upcoming

PERMACULTURE DESIGN COURSE!

For more information and for Registration Forms, visit:

slopermaculture.net

For answers to specific questions, email or call:

slopermaculture@gmail.com,

Alex Vincent 805 729 6845