Got Chickens? A desire for sustainable, clean, wholesome food, superior soil quality, and a closer connection to where our food comes from, has led more and more suburban and city dwellers to keep laying hens in their backyards and gardens. Across America municipalities are allowing, and even encouraging, residents to keep laying hens within city limits.

Join Patricia Foreman, author of "City Chicks" Keeping Micro-flocks of Chickens as Garden Helpers, Compost Makers, Bio-recyclers and Local Food Suppliers, for a talk and book-signing as she shares her humor, passion, and extensive knowledge about raising chickens in the cities and suburbs of America.
