

Geoff Lawton Presents: Reading the Landscape into Food Forest

Friday, August 29th
Casitas Valley Farm

LIMITED TICKETS AVAILABLE

- 5:00pm Farm Tour of Casitas Valley Farm
- 6:00pm Potluck Meal
- 7:30-9:00pm Talk by Geoff Lawton

$15-$30
Sliding Scale

Camping $25 (limited number and by RSVP only) and bring a food item for breakfast if you stay for breakfast

Casitas Valley Farm is honored and excited to offer this evening talk offered by Geoff Lawton, International Permaculture Educator and Designer and the founder of the Permaculture Research Institute of Australia, near to Santa Barbara and Ojai. We will hear from Geoff about his experiences with establishing and tending to food forest systems often referred to as Forest Gardens. These diverse, stable, resilient food systems, that mimic the structure of a natural forest, are self-sustaining, land healing, water purifying, carbon-sequestering and are possibly one of the most nutritionally productive systems for the future of food for humanity especially as we enter into the age of climate instability. Geoff is a leader in the field of food forestry establishment and has an acclaimed video that has made its way around the world titled, "Establishing a Food Forest."

Join us for a tour of Casitas Valley Farm, a demonstration site for financial permaculture and family farming, a potluck and for this very special presentation by Geoff Lawton. A limited number of tickets will be sold and camping areas are available for an additional fee.

www.CasitasValley.com
4620 Casitas Pass Rd. Ventura, CA 93001

Co-Sponsored by:

Santa Barbara Permaculture Guild
Santa Barbara Community College
Surfer's Without Borders
East End Eden Permaculture
The Ojai Foundation

